

Flexible Packaging

What Is Flexible Packaging?

Flexible packaging refers to packaging materials that are easily bendable or pliable, typically made from materials like plastic, paper, or foil. It is found abundantly in a typical grocery store aisle. From bags of chips and pouches of snacks to resealable stand-up pouches for coffee and flexible plastic containers for yogurt, the variety of flexible packaging is evident.

Want to Learn More?

Call your Local Sales Rep

Or

Email: info@polymerpkg.com

Polymer Packaging is your all-in-one Flexible Packaging Supplier

Stretch Hooter Film

Stand Up Pouches

Spouted Bags

Case Liners

Snack Wrappers

Roll Stock Film (LDPE and HDPE)

Resealable Bags

Shrink Wrap

Any Other Flexible Packaging? Just Ask!